

Personal-Self Quest & Relationship Negotiations Workshop Registration Form

After you have scheduled your appointment or reservation, please print, complete this registration form, sign, and bring with you with payment to the first meeting. Please note that this is an educational program only and I am acting as an educator and coach, and not a therapist and with no intention of practicing any kind of therapy or being liable from a therapy perspective. I am serving education and not therapy. Please practice Due Diligence as you would with any other form of education in which you participate. Judi Stifel

I am an Educator and Coach. My products and services are educational/coaching programs and materials. "Therapists" work from a disease model, but "Coaches" work from a healthy person model and we educate and support. My purpose in presenting information is to educate and coach as best I can with the hope that this education and coaching will enrich the lives of others and help them reach their various goals, whatever they may be. I have no way to guaranty the effectiveness of any program for a specific person, and I am in no position to control or be liable for how this education is used by the recipients, nor can I guaranty that it will be in any way useful. As with all education, Knowledge is Power, but not until it is used responsibly and effectively by the recipient. By signing, you acknowledge that you understand the above and that I bear no personal or professional liability for how you respond to or use the information you gain from my coaching.
